Eslite String Trio was formed in 2000 by fellow students from the School of Music of University of British Columbia. Originally a quartet, the group has won top prizes at Friends of Chamber Music in 1998, and in 2001 as a trio. Together, the trio has played at numerous functions - from casual background music to a more formal concert setting. Eslite String Trio enjoys playing a wide variety of music that will complement any occasion. All of the members are professional musicians and are dedicated to bringing the highest quality of music to their performances.
